

Coaching in a Character Culture Online Sessions - 2018

Coaching skills (supporting others by asking vs. telling as well as other communication skills to tap purpose, potential and enhance performance) are an essential tool in your workplace toolkit. This online, interactive, two month intensive program is facilitated by Kathleen Redmond, MA, MCC. Kathleen Redmond is a certified Executive coach (International Coaching Federation), corporate trainer, Instructor at the University of Guelph and author of four workplace books. Read her Full bio and Testimonials. The program offers a rich resource of learning opportunities and practical tools for immediate application.

Who should attend?

- Individuals who lead teams in the workplace

What will you learn?

- Coaching skills to support individuals (peers, direct reports, your leader) and teams
- To build a high-trust and high-performance workplace culture
- Deep listening to hear and respond to both the message and emotion being communicated

How

- This two month intensive program includes interactive Skype sessions every two weeks, pre-session reading, assessments to determine your own coaching strengths and opportunities, and includes practice tools and post-session resources.
- Three of Kathleen's books are included in the program
- One-hour sessions can be scheduled upon registration (Group of 3 needed)
- Note: Skype computer compatibility will be required

Why

- To support others by applying a "coach approach" in the workplace
- To communicate fully, authentically with a problem-solving approach
- To identify your strengths, opportunities and create an individual coaching learning path

When

- Skype video call Dates: Scheduled when registered (Group of 3 needed)

Fees

- $895.00 CDN per person. HST as applicable

Please address any questions to Kathleen at kr@centreforcharacterleadership.com.

To register – Please contact Karen at karenEaddison@gmail.com

Transforming your organization to be a respectful, effective and engaged culture of character through assessments, training and coaching.

Kathleen Redmond, MA, MCC (leadership coach certified at the highest level by International Coaching Federation) founded this company in 1993. In this 25th year she is delighted to welcome two Associates, Patrick McCann and Michael Chadsey. Supported by a talented, experienced support team, we serve leaders in creating respectful, high-performance cultures founded on positive character and effective communication.

Leading with Character. Engaging your Workplace.

We work closely with leaders to determine their departmental and organizational objectives and values, and then support them in building trust, cultivating engagement, and achieving sustainable success.

Our three key areas of focus are:

1: Transforming your Department or Organization toward a Character Culture

2: One-on-One Leadership Coaching Engagements

3: Coaching for Performance (the leader as coach trainer)

The Centre for Character Leadership

LEADING WITH CHARACTER

ENGAGING YOUR WORKPLACE

Email: kr@centreforcharacterleadership.com

Website: centreforcharacterleadership.com

Tel: 905.478.7962

